Honoring American soldiers — The Clark University (Massachusetts) men’s lacrosse team partnered with Americans Supporting Americans recently to provide aid to United States troops in Iraq. The Cougars, who foster a unit based at Fort Hood, Texas, collected and sent food, clothes, magazines and health-care items to the troops during the holiday season. The team plans to continue its support until the troops come home. This spring, the Cougars will sell T-shirts to help raise funds for the initiative.
