Undergraduate Management Program - Learning Goals

Communication - Effective written and oral communication, defined as that which is clear, concise, well organized, well reasoned, and appropriately presented.

Critical thinking - Critical and reflective thinking skills as demonstrated by the ability to apply concepts taught in the curriculum to managerial situations.

Team effectiveness - The ability to work effectively in a team.

Social responsibility - Familiarity with social responsibility, including (but not limited to) business ethics, multicultural and diversity issues, and concerns related to the natural environment.