Help Document Series: Setting up DHCP on Windows Vista

DHCP is necessary for your computer to connect to the Clark Network. You will need an active internet connection on the Clark campus. Please note that in most cases, DHCP will be set up properly by default, meaning that these instructions will allow you to verify that the settings are correct.

Step 1: Click on the Start menu and then click on the Control Panel

Step 2: Double-click the Network and Sharing Center icon within the Control Panel window
Step 3: Select Manage Network Connections

Step 4: Right-click on the Local Area Connection icon and select Properties

Step 5: You will now get a new window named Local Area Connection Properties. Select Internet Protocol Version 4 (TCP/IP) by clicking it once and then click the Properties button.

If you have any questions, or require further assistance, please contact the ITS Help Desk at 508-793-7745 or helpdesk@clarku.edu.
Step 6: Verify that Obtain an IP address automatically and Obtain DNS server address automatically radio buttons are selected. Click the Advanced button.

Step 7: Make sure that the IP address box reads “DHCP Enabled”, and that the Automatic metric box is checked.

If you have any questions, or require further assistance, please contact the ITS Help Desk at 508-793-7745 or helpdesk@clarku.edu.
Step 8: Select the DNS tab and make sure that Append primary and connection specific DNS suffixes radio button is selected, and that Append parent suffixes of the primary DNS suffix box is checked. You will also need to make sure that Register this connection’s addresses in DNS box is also checked.

Step 9: Select the WINS tab. Check to make sure that Enable LMHOSTS lookup box is checked, and that under the NetBIOS setting section, the Default radio button is selected.

Click OK, OK, Close to back out to the Network Connections window, which you may close.
