Statement on Studying Abroad During the Senior Year

Please be advised that studying abroad during the senior year is not for everybody as doing so may cause administrative complications and delay requirements for admission to other programs. Students may only study abroad on a Clark-partner program due to the University senior year residency requirement.

Students considering studying abroad during senior year who are also applying for the Clark Accelerated BA/Master’s Degree Program are responsible for conferring with their Faculty Advisor and/or Academic Advising to first clarify how senior year requirements for the program might be fulfilled. This may NOT be possible. If approved, please note that you are responsible for knowing about and fulfilling all application deadlines which are available on the Clark web pages. Grades earned abroad on Clark-partner programs will be factored into your GPA and will have the same impact on your application eligibility as if you were studying at the Clark campus. Courses may not be taken for Credit/No Credit; all courses will receive letter grades.

Delays in the transfer of overseas credits from fall semester may result in postponing your graduation or on time application to graduate school applications.

Studying abroad during the second semester of senior year will likely result in a deferred graduation and ineligibility to walk in May with the graduating class in May.

_______________________________________________________________________________

I have read and understood the aforementioned information and agree to take full responsibility for any complications that may result from my decision to study abroad during my senior year.

Name (Print):_______________________________________________________

Signature: ______________________________________________________

Date: ___________________________________________________________________

Please submit this completed form with your Clark application for approval to study abroad.