There's no need to cancel your class! The Clark Anti-Violence Education (CAVE) Program by way of the Don't Cancel That Class program can cover your class by presenting on a number of topics that are relevant to college students. Even if you don't need to cancel a class, you are always welcome to request any of these presentations for your classes throughout the year as a guest lecture. Please give us at least a week's notice so that we can coordinate schedules.

We can provide lectures/workshops that are as short as 20-minutes, and some that are up to 2.5 hours. Below is a list of some of our current offerings. If you aren't seeing what you’re looking for, please contact us. We are constantly updating our offerings.

- Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, and Stalking at Clark University — How Often Does It Happen? What You Can do to Help a Friend.
- Male Victims of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, and Stalking at Clark University — Yes, It Happens to Men, Too
- Bringing in the Bystander (2.5 hour program) — This workshop explores how college students can be prosocial and active participants in the prevention of sexual assault, dating violence & stalking.
• Healthy Relationships – An exploration of what makes a relationship a healthy one.

• Sex in the Woo – This workshop explores safer sex practices, the importance of consent and the risks associated with having sex under the influence.

• Alcohol and Sexual Assault – This workshop will explores the role that alcohol often plays in both unwelcome and assaultive sexual situations.

• Big Man on Campus – Where and when do boys/men learn how to “do” masculinity and what role can this play in anti-violence education on a college campus?

• Pop Culture, Music Videos and Violence Against Women – This workshop explores the impact popular culture has on framing our impressions of gender, sex and sexuality.

• The Undetected Rapist — This workshop will discuss evidence from a study on how a small percentage of college men manage to sexually assault women without being detected.

Please contact Amy Cameron for more information or to schedule a class: acameron@clarku.edu or 793-7790.